

SWEET BABY JAMES & ROB EYERS NEW CD - "DOUBLE VOODOO BLUES"

Sweet Baby James & Rob Eyers have just released their new album "Double Voodoo Blues", their long awaited follow up to the multi-award nominated "Rhythm 'n' Blues".

"Double Voodoo Blues" sees the duo's sound venturing even deeper into "juke-joint" blues territory, featuring 13 all original tracks written by James with blues lyricist Georgia May.

It's an album loaded with raw energy, infectious drum grooves & growling slide guitar, while stripped-back solo performances from Sweet Baby James ache with deep feeling and intimacy that sum up what the blues is all about.

The Adelaide based guitar & drums duo have had a hectic tour schedule over the last few years that has taken in major festivals & events including WOMADelaide, Queenscliff Music Festival, the ABC 75th Anniversary Concert and the Australian Blues Festival, of which James was appointed the Official Ambassador.

James is now considered one of the leading blues guitarists in Australia and was recently announced as an endorsee for US amplifier giant Peavey. Boutique slide makers Stobie & Co have also recently starting selling the new "Sweet Baby James Signature" Bottleneck Slide.

Rob has become one of the country's "go-to" roots music drummers, featured on "The Audreys" ARIA award winning first album and winning the inaugural Adelaide Blues Award for "Blues Drummer of the Year".

They play sold-out shows around the county, and the audience and critics are in agreement. The Sunday Herald Sun states that James "channels Elmore James" while Rhythms Magazine says they "outshoot the White Stripes, the Black Keys, the Mess Hall, the Fumes, anyone you care to mention, plus it's blues over rock, and this only serves to elevate them higher".
